

Black Student Scholarship Application

Application Deadline: Via email by October 3, 2025, 5 pm

Creating Great Communities for All

Namo

The purpose of the Black Student Scholarship Program is to provide a scholarship to Black students enrolled in an urban and regional planning program at a Michigan university to cover the costs to attend the MAP Planning Michigan Conference at the Kalamazoo Radisson in Kalamazoo MI October 22 to 24, 2025. The scholarship has no cash value and will be used exclusively to cover costs associated with attendance at the 2025 MAP Conference including conference registration, travel (gas card), and 2 hotel room nights.

The MAP Annual Planning Michigan Conference is an impactful opportunity that fosters motivation, inspiration, and new ideas among its participants, bringing positive benefits to students in the community planning profession. The objective of the scholarship is to provide access to Black planning students who might not otherwise be able to attend. The opportunity to choose a mentor will be provided to each conference scholarship recipient onsite to help navigate the conference, broker introductions, facilitate networking, and generally provide support and guidance that will enhance the scholarship recipient's experience. A Black student and professional luncheon is also included.
